

White Dove Farm Started Selling Passion Fruit in 2005 (15 years ago) and received the same comments as here - in emails. In 2008 We listed ourselves with a large website and these were some of the comments.

Passionate about your Passion Fruit

By: Kelly Fischer (Oct 23, 2013)

Just logged on to this site to order another box of your beautiful, sweet, tangy, crispy, floral passion fruit even though we're only halfway through the first box. Alas, too late...sold out. Won't make the same mistake next season.

We can not tell you how incredibly happy these little gems make us and we've not seen nor tasted bigger or more flavorful fruit anywhere. Certainly not at our local market!

Thanks to you, John, and your team..

Fabulous passionfruit

By: Harry M. Stuart (Sep 26, 2012)

We have been White Dove customers for several years now - being Australian, I am naturally drawn to passionfruit, the fruit of my youth. This year I purchased an order from a competitor and, as the saying goes, you get what you pay for. The price was less, but so was the quality and with wide variations in fruit size and content. Then I 'came home' to White Dove. Although their price was slightly higher - somewhat due to a higher minimum quantity - so was the quality of the fruit. Ten pounds of large, sweet, mature passionfruit that we are still enjoying to this day. Next year I won't sample other suppliers but I'll come right back here.

Late Season Passion Fruit Are Still Pure Magic

By: Robert Farrell (Feb 13, 2012)

Wow, John! Let's hear it for the mild winter. The extra order of passion fruit I got this year arrived huge, heavy and fragrant enough to perfume the entire entry way.

They may be, as you say, slightly less juicy but I can't notice it. What I do notice is an intensity that is AT LEAST as good as earlier in the season.

The early season fruit seem to have more of a floral lightness about them. These, on the other hand, seem a little heavier into a tropical berry note. Both are great and the difference makes it more interesting.

I can tell you this, they have made great passion fruit hot fudge sauce and killer passionfruit syrup martinis.

Keep 'em growin', John. You're awesome!
Rob.

Best Passionfruit Ever Five-star all around !!!

By: Robert Farrell (Jan 18, 2012)

Hi, John, Sorry I didn't post a review for this year earlier. The passionfruit were (and still are) incredible. These are by far the most aromatic and complex Passionfruit with which I have ever worked. We put our passionfruit syrup in and on everything from ice cream to martinis to pork, chicken and fish marinades.

Passionfruit cheesecake is food of the gods with your fruit.

Be Well and Happy Growing (forever, I hope!),

Rob.

Spectacular flavor, high quality fruit

By: Chantal Foster (Dec 7, 2011)

Best passionfruit I've eaten anywhere in the world, and delivered right to my doorstep. The fruits arrived in various states of ripeness which enabled me to eat fresh passionfruit for nearly two weeks straight. Plus, I made passionfruit curd and also froze 3 cups of passionfruit puree for use in mousse later this winter. Thank you so much!

Very Yummy

I'm ordering my second box of passion fruit. The fruit arrived quickly and ready to eat. The smell alone was wonderful. The fruit was sweet with just a slight tartness (just the way I like it). I had so much passion fruit, I pulped and froze the fruit I couldn't eat. After bringing some to work, a colleague also found them delicious and requested that I order another box to share. Yum.

These are the largest passion fruits I've ever seen and they are absolutely delicious! I ordered the biggest box and am now preparing to bake, drink, and generally swim in the best tasting passion fruit money can buy. Give them a try. You won't believe your eyes or your mouth!

Simply Outstanding

Huge and full of top quality flavor. The 20 lb. box I ordered yielded over 5 quarts of intensely flavored passion fruit syrup.

Robert, I would also like your recipe. Please post it here, as I am sure as others read this they too will want your recipe. Thank you for sharing it with us. I can't wait to make it. I love passion fruit.

Many Thanks, Lynn

Wow! Absolutely heavenly!!!

By: Robert Farrell (Sep 15, 2010)

Magnificent fruit, varying from large to huge. They are yielding well over an ounce of raw pulp each, which is up to double what I get from a store-bought fruit (at $2.99 a pop).

The flavor is fresh, complex and intense, the fragrance intoxicating as it fills the room. I have never experienced passion fruit this good, even when I worked as a chef in Boston.

I am dying for my other order - passion fruit syrup - to arrive, and for the other passion fruit varieties to come available.

wow...

just...wow...

Great product, fast shipping, excellent communications

I have been buying passion fruit for several years from White Dove Farms and have always been pleasantly surprised at the friendly , prompt emails, delicious top quality passion fruit and quick shipment. I am now sending boxes to friends as birthday and holiday gifts. This is a great company.

My friend told me when her first box arrived on the East Coast she took a handful over to her French neighbor to try. Neither of them had ever tried a fresh passion fruit and they both looked at each other and wondered how to eat them..... the one lady said, "passionately of course!".

Great and fast

I buy passion fruit from White Dove once or twice a year. They're always nice and large and are shipped very quickly after ordering.

Hi jake again, correction we now buy 3-4 boxes per year. My dad has started buying them too. Loves em. The last box we got was a package with the passion fruit jelly. Fantastic. Great as the fruit in a yogurt.
